But it doesn't have to be this way. Nick will introduce cutting-edge ideas from The Switch On Way that help leaders take the pain out of business transformation, blast through the barriers that block innovation and disappear the dysfunction of teams so that every organisation can forge the future - and not fail it - within a radically uncertain, chaotic and changing world. Key is to understand how to switch from 'Control Mode' to 'Create Mode' to break through blockages at will and ensure our teams can do the same.	Ballroom III, Level -2
